Policeman Gleason's Death Accidental.

The Grand Jury dismissed yesterday the complaint against Calamus, Patrick White, John and Doublet. Gleason, at Broadway and Tenth street, on Sept. 15, on the ground that the killing was accidental.

TWO VERDICTS ON THESE LETTERS.

One for $10,000 Damages Against Desmond and one for Divorce.

Minnie L. Desmond secured an absolute divorce from her husband, Edward A. Desmond, from Judge Pryor in the Court of Common Pleas yesterday. She was married at St. George's Church, in Stuyvesant square, on Aug. 13, 1883, and has one child, Edward A. Desmond, Jr., aged 8 years. Her husband left her about five years ago, because he was infatuated with Amy Rose Pulford, the wife of Montague G. Pulford, a theatrical agent. She deserted her husband and went to live with Edward M. Pulford, after his wife had left him, discovered a number of letters in her desk which had been written to her by Desmond, and upon these brought suit against Desmond, for $10,000 damages for the alienation of Mrs. Pulford's affections. Desmond was exonerated.

These are extracts from some of the letters previously referred to.

Mr. Edward M. Pulford loved one more than myself and with a pure and honest love you can then realize how I love you and my little baby. I love you and my little baby and I am not ashamed to acknowledge it to you. I really say that you are the only one to whom I would give my heart, my love, and my affection. Amy, I am yours.
